

In times like these - when efficiency is critical to survival - more companies consider adopting or re-energizing "lean" operating principles. Yet, implementation can be slow to develop and sustaining the effort can be difficult. We offer a cost effective solution targeted to help your company overcome these challenges – our Lean Enterprise Workshop.

This eight-day workshop focuses on the most important components of implementing and sustaining a lean initiative. This intensive program is designed to teach participants what to do and show them how to do it. Attendees will collaborate by sharing ideas, results, successes, and failures. In addition – for no extra cost, our instructor will follow up with participants in between sessions and provide hands-on assistance to help them immediately implement what they learn. He will also assign homework to focus participants on applying the principles taught in class.

Participating companies may send up to three attendees of their choice per class.

Topics to be covered include:

- Introduction to Lean
- Pull Systems
- 5S/Workplace Organization
- Kanbans & Heijunka
- Kaizens
- Lean Metrics
- Creative Problem Solving
- Quick Changeover
- Value Stream Mapping
- Quality Improvement
- Cellular System Design
- Total Productive Maintenance
- Supply Chain
- Project Management

Who Should Attend: Lean coordinators, operations managers, production supervisors, lean committee members, etc. Companies choose whom to send each week. The workshop is limited to 12 companies... first come, first serve!

Faculty: This workshop series is led by Brent Huffaker, a lean professional directly trained and mentored by Toyota leaders, the originators of the Toyota Production System (TPS). He has over 10 years of proven expertise in business process improvement and problem solving. Brent currently facilitates The Employers Council's Plant Manager Roundtable.
